

K-State Cattleman's Day

MANHATTAN, Kan. – The 109th annual Cattlemen's Day in Manhattan, Kansas is scheduled for Friday, March 4. Early registration for this year's event is $25 if paid by Feb. 25, or $35 after that date. There is no charge for students who pre-register. Online registration is available at asi.ksu.edu/CattlemansDay, or interested persons may register by contacting Lois Schreiner at 785-532-1267 or lschrein@ksu.edu.

KSU Animal Sciences and Industry (ASI) faculty speakers include: KC Olson, Cow-calf and range management; Dale Blasi; stocker, growing and backgrounding; Jim Drouillard, feedlot and ruminant nutrition; and Michael Chao, meat science and muscle biology.

The day starts at 8 a.m. with refreshments, educational exhibits and a commercial trade show. Mike Day, K-State ASI department head will kick off the morning program at 9:30 followed by ASI faculty and a Beef Industry Economic Outlook by Glynn Tonsor, K-State Agriculture Economics.

The afternoon sessions will feature K-State faculty and industry presentations in Weber Hall discussing an array of topics, including:

- Reproductive Research Updates
- A&A: All Things Reproduction
- What's Up With the Weather (extremes and outlook)
- Rules of the Road for Kansas Farmers and Ranchers (presented by Kansas Highway Patrol)
- Meat Alternatives, Taste Testing and Consumer Acceptance

The 44th annual Legacy Bull and Female Sale will begin at 4 p.m. at the Stanley Stout Center (2200 Denison Avenue). Visit www.asi.ksu.edu/legacysale to learn more about this year's offerings and to request a sale catalog.